Brief Report:

World Population Day is celebrated annually on July 11. This year, the day is being observed on Thursday, July 11, 2024, with the theme “Leave No One Behind, Count Everyone,” which emphasizes the importance of inclusive data collection to ensure that everyone is fairly represented in population counts, regardless of back ground, nationality, geography, or socio-economic standing.

History and Significance

The origins of World Population Day date back to July 11, 1987, when the world's population reached approximately five billion people. This milestone sparked global interest in population growth and its implications. On the occasion of World Population Day, the Department of Political Science and NSS Jointly organized a Seminar in college seminar hall. S. Sanjeev Kumar, in charge principal and president of this seminar, started this event and gave a message about importance of this year theme “Leave No One Behind, Count Everyone,”.
